PRESENT PROBLEMS OF ESPERANTO LITERATURE

W. SOZBACHER, PH.D.

Literature in and on Esperanto consists at this time of approximately 7,500 volumes. It is more comprehensive and varied than the literature of minor national languages. It includes originals and translations, classics and modern fiction, technical books from all fields of human knowledge and human endeavor. In one normal year (1932,) 147 Esperanto books were published; of these, 58 were textbooks and books on education and teaching, 43 works of fiction and books on literature or art, 28 books on science, technology, and religion, 5 books dealing with the Esperanto movement, 13 publications on miscellaneous topics. The Bibliografio de Internacia Lingvo by P. E. Stojan, which appeared at Geneva, Switzerland, in 1929, is an impressive volume of 560 pages. It lists most of the books in and on Esperanto as well as on the world language problem in general which were published prior to 1929. It is to be hoped that it will soon be possible to print a second edition bringing the book lists up to date.

The fact that Esperanto books have been published in more than 50 different countries has had the consequence that barriers to the free transfer of goods and money from one country to another constitute a formidable obstacle to the distribution of Esperanto books. For this reason, many Esperanto books are not readily available at this moment.

Unfortunately there is not a single library or other institution in the Western Hemisphere, where the major part of the 7,500 Esperanto books would be accessible to research students and others. There are several such centers in Europe: the Library of the Universal Esperanto Association (UEA) in Geneva; the Esperanto Division of the Library of the Chamber of Commerce in Paris; the Library of the British Esperanto Association in London; the Library of the late Georgi Davidov in Saratov, Russia, now administered by the Soviet Government; and the International Esperanto Museum in Vienna. In January 1940, when it looked as if Switzerland might be overrun by the Nazis and the famous Library of the Universal Esperanto Association might not be safe in Geneva, the Library of Congress in Washington, according to No. 493 of the UEA journal, "Esperanto," declared its willingness to take the collection over and to continue it. Nothing came of it, however, because the military events of May-June 1940 made such a transfer impossible. It would, of course, be extremely desirable from many points of view if some important library in the United States, for instance the Library of Congress, were willing to establish a first class reference library of books in and on Esperanto. In such a case some rare books could be obtained by gifts from individuals and organizations.

Another problem which should be given serious consideration by the organized Esperanto movement is that of Esperanto books in public libraries. In some American cities, for instance New York and Cleveland, the public libraries have a fairly large number of Esperanto books. Their selection has, however, apparently been a matter of haphazard purchases and donations. Such essential reference books as the Enciklopedio de Esperanto by Bleier-Kokeny and the Bibliografio de Internacia Lingvo by P. E. Stojan are missing in both the libraries mentioned. I found Zamenhof's Originala Verkaro at Cleveland, but not at New York.

The most important book publishers in the Esperanto movement are at present: the Esperanto Publishing Company in London; the Esperantista Centra Librejo in Paris; the Eldona Societo Esperanto in Stockholm; Heroldo de Esperanto in Scheveningen, Netherlands; and Literatura Mondo in Budapest. There are many — as a matter of fact too many — other publishers. It is a complicated, time-consuming, and costly job under present circumstances to import the books of many of them. Sales of literature in the United States and Canada could probably be increased tremendously if the best Esperanto books from all publishers could be made easily available through an efficient book service.

The "book club" idea, which has proved extremely successful in obtaining large circulations for timely books has also been adapted to Esperanto literature. The latest institution of this kind, the Literatura Klubo Stelo-Libro, with headquarters in Stockholm, was founded less than a year ago and supplies excellent books at very reasonable price. The first Esperanto book club, AELA (Asocio de Esperantistaj Literatur-Amantoj) was sponsored by Literatura Mondo in Budapest. It may be hoped that it will resume its activities in a not too distant future. It may also be worth considering whether it would not be possible for the Central Office to establish an Esperanto Book Club in North America, which would import its books from all countries, selecting them exclusively from the point of view of quality and reader's interest.

The Esperanto Association of North America, although it does not possess such a wonderful reference library as the British Esperanto Association, has been fortunate in having a Book Rental Service which, at almost no cost, makes hundreds of the best Esperanto books available to its members. It includes many books which cannot be bought at this moment. Under its able Manager, Mr. E. G. Dodge, M. A., in Washington, the Service has been doing an excellent job. More and more Esperantists are making use of the opportunities which it offers.

Esperanto is the living language of living people, and much of its pulsating life finds expression in the wealth and variety of its literature. For the vitality and continuity of the Interlanguage it is of the utmost importance that Esperantists, beginners as well as old-timers, should read and buy good and interesting books in Esperanto.

EDITOR'S NOTE: This mid-summer issue of "AE", devoted to the Book Rental Service, not only provides the membership with an up-to-date Catalog, but it also demonstrates in small measure what a varied and considerable literature exists in Esperanto.

BOOK RENTAL SERVICE OF E.A.N.A.

ERNEST G. DODGE, M.A.
Director, Book Rental Service

The present publication supersedes the now outmoded catalog of March, 1943. The collection of books and booklets available has grown to double since that time. Also a more complete and uniform system of classification and cataloging has been introduced to aid in making selections.

The Book Rental Service was established by E.A.N.A. in 1941, on a small and tentative basis, its two-fold purpose being to encourage among Esperantists a wider and more constant reading of the Esperanto literature, and to make accessible to earnest students many interesting and important works no longer readily available for purchase. Steadily since then the collection has been enlarged, and the number of readers has grown accordingly. (The most assiduous among the readers has already drawn from this library more than 150 books or booklet-groups.)

Registration, and rental fees. Any Esperantist who wishes to make use of the Rental Service sends his or her name, together with one dollar ($1.00) as an initial deposit, to the following address:

Mr. E. G. Dodge,
1471 Irving St., N. W.,
Washington 10, D. C.

The person so registered has then the right to draw one book at a time (or one Group of smaller publications, as later explained.) Anyone who wishes to keep two or more books (or Groups) always in hand, thus preventing loss of time during transit in the mails, may deposit more than one dollar and then may make arrangements to suit his need. The rental fee for one book is 10c for any period up to four weeks. In case the work is retained longer than four weeks, there is a further charge of 5c for each additional two weeks or fraction thereof.

These rental fees are charged against the deposit already made. When the unused balance falls below 50c, the user is expected to deposit a further dollar to reinforce his reserve credit. One discontinuing his use of the Service may have his reserve credit returned, on request.

Groups of booklets. Both as a convenience to the Director of the Rental Service and for the greater benefit of those availing themselves of its privileges, all the smaller booklets — and sometimes books of moderate though considerable size — have been placed together as "Groups," containing generally either three or four or five items each. A few Groups contain six or more items. A few others are formed out of only two books, these being works of sizeable proportions. Sometimes an item of interest may be found in two or more Groups, otherwise different. This affords the reader a wider range of choice.

Each Group, irrespective of the number of items comprised therein, is rented for 10c as though it were one book.

The items forming one Group are kept together in a yellow envelope bearing a group-number, as "G-7," or "G-126." The borrower is requested to preserve the envelope with care and to return it along with its contents.

Classification. All material in the Rental Library is classified under eighteen main types or fields of interest. For a list of these, see Contents on second page of cover. Most of the fields are divided into two to six sub-fields. A Group is classified according to its predominant trend; occasionally there will be found in a Group some item belonging under a different classification, a variety of reading matter being thus insured to the borrower.

Abbreviations. To conserve space, "tr." is used for "translation," or "translated by"; "Esp. orig." for "originally written in Esperanto." "Kabe" is pseudonym for Dr. Kazimierz Bein of Poland, one of the most brilliant of the early translators.

Mailing. The Book Rental Service pays the postage in one direction. When returned, the book or the group-envelope should be carefully and securely wrapped; and preferably it should be protected by pasteboard, especially in case of paper covered publications. The book rate for mailing within the United States is now 4c for the first pound and 3c for each added pound or fraction thereof. To secure this low rate, label the package "Books only." To and from Canada the general rate for printed matter must be paid. And Groups containing magazines must go by magazine rate even in the United States. (If desired, a letter or postcard may be attached to outside of package.)

Suggestions for making selections. One who wishes to make steady use of the Rental Service will secure better satisfaction if he submits to the Director a list of several works which he wishes to read in a certain order, or as fast as they are available. Upon the return of one book, another will then be sent without need for further correspondence. The Director is also glad to act as a reader's advisor, sending interesting material of any type requested by the reader.

Suggestions to donors. The collection now in hand has reached its present proportions partly through purchase of new books, covered by cash contributions, and partly by donations of used books which the possessor does not plan to read again. Such donations are always welcome, in case of books or booklets not found in the catalog. Do not ordinarily send duplicates without first inquiring if they are needed.

YOU CAN MASTER ESPERANTO, IF YOU . . .

- 1) Read the American Esperantist regularly. It will keep you in touch with the entire Esperantist world.
- 2) Read the extensive and interesting Esperanto literature, both original and translated works, in prose and poetry from scores of nationalities.
- 3) Correspond with foreign Esperantists. Such correspondence not only perfects your Esperanto, but you will gain friends in exotic lands and learn much about their life and thought.
- 4) Use

every possible occasion to speak Esperanto, despite errors, and you will soon find that you will be able to freely express your thoughts in the new tongue.

- 5) Take part in your national association (EANA) as an active member, and join your local Esperanto club for regular attendance and participation.
- 6) Take the examination offered by EANA for Certificates of Competency — Preliminary, Advanced and Teaching.

La Vojo Returne (362 pp.) From E. M. Remarque. Depicts the sufferings of German soldiers in first World War, followed by their psychic bewilderment and maladjustment for peace after the conflict.

Section 2. Problems of Esperanto Movement

Maria kaj la Grupo (172 pp.) Esp. orig. by "Emba." Two Esperanto clubs in Hungary, one dilettante or social, while that of the laborites is earnest. A frail girl wears herself out for Esperanto.

Verdaj Donkihotoj (211 pp.) Esp. orig. by Julio Baghy. Interesting reading, but inconclusive. It is the story of "Paŭlo Paal."

Section 3. Problems of Society — in General

Marta (237 pp.) Eliza Orzeszko, tr. Zamenhof. Tragic struggle of impoverished gentlewoman-widow in social order bitterly unjust to women.

Hural! (411 pp.) Esp. orig. most outstanding work of Julio Baghy. Quite amazing story of an immeasurable cynic who left his fortune to a city on a bizarre and misanthropic condition — and what came of it.

La Ora Stuparo (278 pp.) From E. Phillips Oppenheim. An attempt to corner all the gold in the world, and what came of it.

Fontamara (181 pp.) From Italian of I. Salone. A story — perhaps partly historical — of poor Italian peasants, their sufferings and wrongs under a selfish government.

La Princo kaj Betty (185 pp.) From P. G. Wodehouse. Gay and cheerful romance of young man who did not want to be monarch of a petty island, sponsored by a millionaire for advertising purposes.

Sep Vangofrapoj (148 pp.) From Hungarian of Aszlanyi. Unusual romance of young Scotchman; what he did to an arrogant multimillionaire; also what the millionaire's daughter did.

Section 4. Problems from Socialist or Laborite Standpoint

Metropolitano, a word meaning "subway." (200 pp.) Esp. orig. by Varankin. Interesting 1928 story of Communist party life in Moscow and Berlin; latitudinarian in morality; many neologisms.

La Fera Kalkanumo (359 pp.) From Jack London, published by SAT.

Jimmie Higgins (369 pp.) Upton Sinclair, tr. Karl Froding.

Petrolo, Upton Sinclair, tr. Bailey. Two volumes of 306 and 320 pp. (Both may be drawn at once, but count as two books.)

Section 5. Problems of Individual Living

Cu Li? (195 pp.) Dr. Vallienne, 1908. (Sometimes called first Esp. orig. romance, but really second to Kastelo de Prelongo.) Revised and shortened by Kalocsay. Sequels of a fateful error affecting identical twins, one of whom was believed long dead. Human revenge.

Abismoj (150 pp.) Jean Forge, Esp. orig. Remarkable art form, portraying effectively the nethermost tragedies of several human lives.

Homoj sur la Tero (201 pp.) Stellan Engholm, Esp. orig. Three generations of Swedish country folk, with different idiosyncrasies, failings and longings; ends with break of sunshine through the cloud.

Fanny (240 pp.) Edna Ferber, life problems of an American Jewish girl.

Riča kaj sen Mono (222 pp.) E. Phillips Oppenheim. Romance of a millionaire who, on a bet, makes his way for a time on penniless basis.

Romano pri Afrika Bieno (270 pp.) From Olive Schreiner, South African feminist and pacifist. Problems of struggle, loneliness, and religious doubt on a Boer farm. (Original dates from 1883.)

Undino (283 pp.) Olive Schreiner, begun at age of 16, published 1921 after her death; South African pioneer life and diamond rush.

Anstatajta Edzino (212 pp.) From Enrica Maxwell. Hasty formal marriage to an utter stranger in Russia, only to save her life; and how an English girl got into the picture.

Mirinda Amo (295 pp.) H. A. Luyken, Esp. orig. Involves England and a high-ranking East Indian.

G-96. Al Torento, Stellan Engholm, Esp. orig. Unsophisticated young man, and a woman whose "emancipated morals" brought motherhood, find their "way out" through thought of future. Infanoj en Torento, Engholm. Boys and girls in Swedish foundry town. Maljunulo Migras, and Venço, two stories of Swedish rural life by Engholm. Printempo en Autuno, pensive original story by Julio Baghy.

Section 6. Other Problem Fiction

Patroj kaj Filoj (215 pp.) Tr. Kabe from Russian of Turgenev.

La Senlingvulo (191 pp.) From Russian of Korolenko. Two immigrants, one Jewish and one not, who in America have difficulties of isolation because of language, and become homesick for their native land.

G-60. Kandid, Voltaire. "Por Recenzo," bizarre Esp. orig. by Sturmer. La Konscienco Riprocas, Strindberg. Superforta Ambicio (Skrizo el la Esperantista vivo), Esp. orig. from Russia.

G-118. "La Rabeno de Baharah" and "La Gimnaziano," two translations by Zamenhof, one tragic, the other amusing. La Longa Vojo (139 pp.) Richard Meye, Esp. orig. 1935; hoboes on the road. La Vidvineto, Brazilian story around 1850, financial indiscretions of young man followed by long and finally happy atonement.

G-126. La Pastro en Vejlbye, an eighteenth-century Dane, compelled by duty to try his fiancee's father for crime. "Maljunulo Migras" and "Venço," Engholm, problems of modern Swedish peasants; (also in G-96.) Sonorilo kaj Kanono, thoughtful sketches from Rumanian. THE “STELO-LIBRO” BOOK CLUB

The American Esperantist has concluded arrangements with the Esperanto Publishing Society of Sweden, to handle their Literature Klubo Stelo-Libro in North America. These books with the Stelo-Libro imprint are of the best in Esperantoland. Readers of the American Esperantist may now be assured of receiving regularly every few months, Esperanto literature of highest quality, freshly printed and beautifully bound, by simply sending to us for Stelo-Libro Membership Blanks, and fulfilling the few simple regulations listed therein. A member signs for five consecutive volumes of the Stelo-Libro series, and thereafter regularly receives the books and pays for them at a very considerable reduction in price over what they cost when ordered separately — about 25%.

It is important to the progress of Esperanto, that Esperantists buy books regularly, and thereby support the steady advancement of Esperanto literature. It is also important that encouragement should be given to the best books possible. The American Esperantist begins an ambitious program for the dissemination of good Esperanto books throughout America, by starting with the Stelo-Libro Club. However, we intend to extend this book service eventually to a point where all the best Esperanto books from all lands will be made easily available to the Esperantists, and public libraries, and schools, and book stores of America. Emphasis will be placed on quality and reader's interest. Every Esperantist can help by supporting our venture, by joining the Stelo-Libro Club, and by buying all their Esperanto books from this Central Office. In that way we can build a very valuable service, both to the success of Esperanto, and to the interests of the individual Esperantists who participate.

Let us begin with the Stelo-Libro Book Club. Send for a descriptive folder with application blank, which lists current books in the series of the Star Books.

Library and gift subscriptions are due. Let's continue and increase our efforts.

The following letter is a splendid example of timely and progressive thought. It shows the primary direction for Esperanto development in North America. Bilingual communities are language conscious, and first to recognize the need for an easy, neutral, world-wide interlanguage to promote interpeople understanding. Esperanto must be introduced into all the schools of the world. Mrs. Samaniego sets a high-minded example for all school teachers to follow. May we hear from many other teachers who are willing to organize for active participation in the urgent move for "Esperanto in the Schools."

Las Cruces, New Mexico

To the Editor:

Please send me your books for the entire course of Esperanto for a beginner.

I am going to study it by myself and feel sure that I can master it alone after talking with Richard Earnhart, the Southwestern Spelling Bee Champion (and former 'Quiz Kid'), who studied it by himself.

My ambition is to learn it and then teach it. I am a public school teacher and feel that Esperanto should be introduced in our public schools.

This is a bi-lingual community where both Spanish and English are taught now in our schools, but I feel that in these days when our planning and thinking is done on a world scale, we need to prepare our students for world communication of thought and understanding. I feel that Esperanto is an excellent tool for this purpose. Wouldn't it be an interesting and motivating force in the teaching of Social Science!

I shall be impatiently awaiting the Esperanto material which you will send me.

(Mrs.) Marguerite Samaniego
