State Capitol, Madison, Wisconsin

E. A. N. A. ANNUAL CONGRESS GOES TO MADISON, WISCONSIN

July 4th to 8th, 1928

Gov. Zimmerman to Speak in Esperanto

Wisconsin's capital city will be host to the 21st annual congress of the Esperanto Association of North America the first week in July. The date of the congress has been fixed early in July to enable members to attend before sailing for the U. E. A. congress at Antwerp, which meets a month later. The date has been chosen to accommodate busy persons who find it difficult to leave their business affairs. Under that arrangement for this congress almost the entire membership can leave home after business hours on Tuesday, the 3rd, and arrive in time for the congress. Fully half of the United States and a large section of central and eastern Canada can reach Madison in 24 hours. Thus by leaving home Tuesday evening they can be in Madison for the informal reception Wednesday evening, July 4th. And those within the 36 hour radius can be in Madison for the official opening of the congress at 10 A. M.

July 5th. Only those sections west of the Rocky Mountains require more than 36 hours to reach Madison.

The sessions of the congress will be held in the beautiful State Capitol buildings, which occupy a 14 acre quadrangle on the narrow peninsula separating Lake Monona from Lake Mendota. Just at the south corner of the Capitol quadrangle stands the beautiful and commodious Park Hotel, the official headquarters of the congress.

FEATURES OF THE CONGRESS

Features of the Congress

Mr. A. S. Vinzent of San Francisco, chief delegate of the U. E. A., has issued a call for a general conference of U. E. A. delegates as a part of this congress program. In case Chief Delegate Vinzent should not attend the congress, the Delegate Conference will be led by Chas. H. Briggs, who for 15 years has served as U. E. A. delegate for the city of Minneapolis. Every U. E. A. delegate should be present at this meeting.

Another important feature of the congress will be a session devoted to the activities of the local groups. The Cleveland Esperanto Society, which is one of the most successful groups in the country, will furnish the leadership for this session. No phase of our movement deserves more careful study than the organization of strong local societies.

The present status of the Esperanto Movement in all parts of the world and particularly on the North American continent will occupy one session. Under this heading will come the annual report of the E. A. N. A. officers and committees and full discussion and analysis of the various problems of our association.

A special meeting for the benefit of the public with formal address by one of our leaders will be a feature.

The annual dinner on Saturday evening will be the culminating feature of the occasion, and, as in past years, will mark the peak of interest, devotion and fervor of the entire congress session.

To mingle play and outdoor life with the serious work of the congress an excursion to the Dells of the Wisconsin has been planned.

Another feature contemplated is a short course school of "spoken Esperanto" to start the previous week. While we cannot make definite announcements at this time, we shall do so in the next issue of A. E., which will reach you before the meeting of the congress. We invite suggestions for this proposed school and would be pleased to answer inquiries of those interested. Address such inquiries and suggestions to the central office.

Madison is in the middle of the irregular triangle joining Milwaukee, Chicago and Minneapolis, situated 80 miles from Milwaukee, 130 from Chicago and 270 from Minneapolis-St. Paul. "WHERE THE NORTHWEST BEGINS" would be a fitting title for Madison, since it is so typical of the whole park region stretching across the central northwest. In respect to the character of its public and private buildings and the natural beauty of the surrounding country, the city is a veritable beauty spot.

The varied and magnificent buildings of Wisconsin University grouped among natural groves along the slopes and crest of a noble hill, as if the artistry of man vied with the hand of nature, is not surpassed anywhere in the country. This progressive university with its 10,000 students and hundreds of professors, presided over by the versatile Glen Frank, ranks among the really great institutions of the world.

Hon. Fred R. Zimmerman, Governor of Wisconsin will deliver his address to the congress in Esperanto.

And now that President Coolidge has chosen Wisconsin as the play ground for his summer vacation and thousands will be coming this way to one of the world's great vacation countries, let's all join the caravan with the motto "ON TO WISCONSIN."

CALL FOR CONFERENCE OF U. E. A. DELEGATES

San Francisco, May 25, 1928

The Universal Esperanto Association has been growing in importance in the Esperanto movement as each year passes. The Delegates of U. E. A. are representative, not only of the movement from an international viewpoint but are also the representatives of the local groups and the isolated members scattered throughout the United States, bringing these groups and individuals into intimate contact with each other.

In my opinion it would be fitting that the delegates of U. E. A. hold a group meeting during the coming National Congress at Madison, Wisconsin in order to get acquainted as such delegates and to discuss the many questions of our work that are constantly arising and to offer the benefit of our experience to each other.

Such a group meeting might result in a closer union of the delegates and members of U. E. A. in the United States, which we all admit would be of value to the movement generally. Therefore, I suggest that the delegates of U. E. A. who expect to be present at the coming congress communicate their desire for a group meeting to Mr. Chas. W. Barnes, General Secretary E. A. N. A.

1001 Commerce Building, St. Paul, Minnesota, so that he may pass this information on to the Congress Committee.

A. S. VINZENT,

Chief Delegate U. E. A., Western United States.

TWIN CITY CLUB BACKS EANA, GUARANTEES 100 MEMBERSHIPS

The Twin City Esperanto Club at its Annual Meeting took an important step toward the support of EANA. "Realizing that the approaching Congress at Madison can not plan adequately for the ensuing year without knowing what resources the Association will have for the work, we have decided to give a definite pledge in advance. We hope other groups will do likewise." The Club passed a resolution guaranteeing to enroll 100 members and to make the guarantee effective several members pledged personally various sums from ten to twenty dollars each to guarantee the club's guarantee. If by chance the enrollment should fall below the 100 mark the Club will make good the deficit and if necessary call upon its guarantors to furnish the cash to pay over to EANA the necessary amount to make up the 100 memberships. It will be recalled that 100 memberships was the apportionment for Minnesota for this year and the club is striving to make good on that before the congress meets at Madison.

At the meeting a number of changes were made in the official staff of the club. Dr. Lehman Wendell, President since the Club was organized three years ago and Chas. W. Barnes, Secretary, both asked to be relieved of official duty in the club because of their heavy duties in EANA. Dr. Wendell in addition to being assistant secretary of EANA is conducting the Esperanto courses given by the University of Minnesota. The wishes of these officials were respected by the club and the election resulted as follows: Pres. Newell Boyes, Sec. Mrs. Helen W. Frink, Treas. H. W. Libby, First Vice-Pres. Chas. H. Briggs, Second Vice-Pres. Louise H. Raatz, Sergeant-at-arms, J. B. Barker. The office of Past President was created to which the retiring president was duly elected. The Executive Committee consists of the above named officers and Miss Elsa Steinmetz and Mr. Kenneth M. Morrison.

HENRY FORD ADVERTISES IN ESPERANTO

For many years Esperanto has been used for advertising purposes by European business men but only recently have our great American Industrialists realized the value of such advertising and we are beginning now to see such advertising as that of the Ford Motor Company issued from their branch in the Saar territory, SAAR-FORD-AUTOMOBIL-SOCIETO, PEICK & WEIL, K. L. R. SAARBRUCKEN3. While Mr. Ford is issuing this Esperanto advertising in western Europe, over on the other side of the world, in China, the REMINGTON TYPEWRITER COMPANY are using the Esperanto magazines of the Orient for advertising their typewriters.

This use of the Esperanto language for practical business purposes, by two of the largest manufacturing concerns in the world is another testimonial of the widespread use of the language.

ARTICLE IX—Amendments

(Same as now, but let last sentence read): The Congress shall have power to revise the wording of amendments duly before it, or to adopt restrictive or limiting words or clauses, or make changes in or additions of details to any extent not contravening the evident purpose of the amendments. (Add): Proposed amendments shall be considered and passed upon article by article and section by section.

The Proposed Amendments to the constitution of EANA submitted by Mr. H. M. Scott of Moundsville, W. Va. will be voted on at the congress. Members of EANA who can not attend have the privilege of voting by proxy. These amendments are similar to the ones submitted last year and which failed to pass. It is to be hoped that every member will study these carefully and vote for or against them as each may deem best for the Association. It would hardly be necessary to state that your Secretary is not very enthusiastic about creating more work for the central office as indicated in the amendments. To make the central office the agent of U. E. A. would tend to disrupt the splendid organization of local delegitoj which UEA has spent years to build up. It seems rather arbitrary to insist that no one may join the EANA unless he joins also the UEA. Many persons resent the idea of compulsion.

Our good friend Sro Scott believes these changes will be helpful to our Association. He may be right and we regret to be drawn in opposing these amendments. But the situation is such that our silence might be construed into a belief upon the part of some that we desired the changes. We voted against these amendments last year although most of the persons supporting us were for them. We believe the changes undesirable and believe the members are entitled to know our views and it is in that spirit that we publish this statement.

CHAS. W. BARNES, Sec. EANA.

TO ALL SCOUT-ESPERANTO DEPUTIES

Vacation time is a splendid time to start classes for the study of Esperanto among the boy and girl scouts.

Business usually slackens during the summer months too, in most lines of activity, and as you are all business men, this fact give you more time to "do a good turn" for the boys and girls, and for the Scout Esperanto League.

This is just as true of all enthusiastic Esperantists; but it's my job to encourage you fellows to zealous activity, as your brother and leader. If possible organize a vacation class, or "Libertempa Klubo." (Children love something that sounds mysterious). If they object that they are going away for a trip vacation, urge them to "Take a grammar along, and be an Esperantist when you return, and surprise the folks." If they say "I'll have no teacher," tell them none is needed, if they'll just assign to themselves a time for each day's lesson, and abide by it. Give them a sample lesson, drilling them a bit on pronunciation,—the vowels and the accent; caution them to be careful about the sounds of the vowels, very careful for awhile.

If the scouts, either sex, have a summer camp, visit it once a week, or more, or have some one attend the camp and teach Esperanto every day, so as to win the merit badge for "Interpreting," which is one of the hardest to win, except with Esperanto.

Ni estu viglaj,

Via, S. E. L' Ĉefo,
JOHN H. FAZEL.

Topeka, Kansas.

THE SCOUT ESPERANTO LEAGUE

J. H. Fazel, Topeka, Kan.

National Director

The Scout Esperanto League is a world organization for all kinds of scouts who know or wish to know how to use the International language Esperanto, in order to communicate with other scouts who cannot speak their language. With a knowledge of Esperanto a scout can correspond with scouts in over thirty countries and languages. This makes it possible also to talk with the French, German, Russian, Polish, Spanish, Italian or Swiss scouts without having to learn their languages. Then you can win the Interpreter's badge in one vacation time if you will work; a thing which would take you two or three years to do with any foreign language.

The League was organized in October, 1918, in England, and is now growing rapidly wherever there are scouts.

The declared objects of S. E. L. are:

1. To spread the scout ideals by means of Esperanto;
2. To spread Esperanto among scouts of every country;
3. To create a scout literature in Esperanto;
4. To publish an international scout gazette or journal; and
5. To strengthen the feeling of brotherhood, common to both movements, among the young folks of the whole world.

The motto of S. E. L. is: "LIFE TO THE FOURTH LAW!"

"Vivigu la Kvaran Leĝon!"

The official magazine is "Skolta Heroldo." 50c a year. Filled every month with scout jokes, short stories and good information.

Membership is for boys and girls, 15c a year. Adults, 50c.

The S. E. L. badge is 25c. Skolta Heroldo, a year is 50c.

Membership fees, subscriptions etc., must be sent to the Ĉefnacia Direktoro, Rev. JOHN H. FAZEL, 1122 West 8th Street, Topeka, Kansas.

The United States branch of the Scout Esperanto League was organized in the year 1919, by the appointment of the Rev. John H. Fazel, of Topeka, Kansas, as Ĉefagento Usona. He is still occupying this post, and to date has appointed the following Deputies to represent the S. E. L. in their localities;—

1. Warren G. Davis, 1150 Mulvane St., Topeka, Kansas.
2. C. H. Gibbons, Faith Home, Mitchell, S. D.
3. Verle P. Miller, 518 Olive St., Hannibal, Mo.
4. Rev. Chauncey Case, 1123 W. Union Ave., Alliance, Ohio.
5. C. C. Briggs, 1701 Hickman Ave., Des Moines, Iowa.
6. Rev. Charles P. Lang, M. E. Church, Sterling, Nebraska.
7. F. E. Battey, State University, Iowa City, Iowa
8. Dr. Elmer E. Haynes, Postmaster, Madison, Kansas.
9. K. A. Susuki, Box 79, Orange, Texas.
10. E. Syverson, Scoutmaster, 133 Geary St., San Francisco, Calif.
11. Prof. Fred A. Hamann, Chn. Prop., 481 63rd St., Wauwatosa, Wis.
12. W. L. Person, Stuart, Oklahoma.
13. Alfred D. Dennison, Atty., Peoples Bank Bldg., Johnstown, N. Y.
14. C. C. Fears, 3211 Western Parkway, Louisville, Ky.
15. Edward Levine, Scout, 611 Lagrange St., Toledo, Ohio.

These men are authorized to organize classes for the study of Esperanto, collect and forward money for dues, subscriptions, books, etc. and represent the League in their localities.

It is Mr. Fazel's desire to secure deputies in every large town in every state of the Usono; and he invites correspondence on the subject, especially from scouts. Anyone can join the S. E. L. whether an Esperantist or a scout, or not, if they are willing to help in any way to forward the objects of the League.

Will you who are reading this, please pass the word along? Or, better still, write Mr. Fazel, and ask for a commission.

PAROLADETO HONORANTE LA MEMORON DE D-RO L. L. ZAMENHOF ĈE LA BARĈO DE LA HARMONIO KLUBO DE NOV-JORKO, 21-AN DE APRILO, 1928.

FARITA DE JAMES DENSON SAYERS

Karaj ge-samideanoj:

Estas nia bedŭrinda devo ĉiun jaron rememorigi nin ke dum la monato de Aprilo, 1917, unu el la plej noblaj homoj de la mondo mortis. Sed kiam ni memoras ke Ludoviko Zamenhof mortis, ni memoras ke nur lia korpo mortis, ĉar lia spirito, la mirinda spirito de homaranismo, la spirito de homa unueco kiun li tiel forte inspiris en la mondon, ne mortis kun lia korpo, sed daŭre vivas kaj vivos, vivos ĉiam kun kreskanta forto, ĉiam venkante ĉian obstaklon. Obstakloj ekzistas, kaj tiu fakto estas la kialo por nia kuniĝo en la sama nobla vojo kiun komencis nia majstro kaj laŭ kiu ni devas marŝi tra la jaroj al la brilega tago de fina venko.

Ni ne pensu pri la morto de nia amata majstro kun prema malĝojo; kun bedaŭro, certe, memorante ke li vivis por tiel sankta celo, ke li atingis sian celon kiam li, per nekalkulebla memofero, kreis la belan, mirindan lingvon de monda frateco, nian Esperanton. Ne estus lia deziro ke ni iam depremu niajn korojn per peza malĝojo, sed li certe dezirus ke ni, memorante la indan celon de Esperanto, ankaŭ donu niajn vivojn ĝoje ĉiun tagon por la kaŭzo al kiu li dediĉis kaj fine donis sian vivon.

Mi vere kredas ke D-ro Zamenhof donis sian vivon al Esperanto. Li ne estis tre maljuna kiam la morto forprenis lin. Li devus esti vivinta pli multajn jarojn, sed la jaroj de penegado, de senĉesa laborado, de neado al si mem la komfortigajn benojn de ordinara vivo, kaj fine la profundega malĝojo kiu disŝiris lian koron dum la popola interbuĉado de la Monda Milito, detruis lian koron, fortranĉis de li la deziron vivadi. La malhelaj nuboj de interfrata buĉado suprenvenis lian horizonton kaj al li la suno ĉesis brili; ŝajne la mondo respondis al li: "Vi dediĉis vian vivon al iluzio; ni ne volas mondan interfratecon; ni nur volas homan sangon por satigi ian malamon; tial vi plibone mortu, kaŝante vian honton en morto."

La mola, amema Zamenhofa koro estis rompita. Spite de la leona spirito kiu estis subteninta lin dum longaj jaroj, li kviete endormiĝis post tri jaroj de la terura buĉado. Oni diras ke li mortis ĉar li ne povis pli longe rigardi la interbataladon.

Nun, dek unu jaroj post la morto de nia majstro, ni renkontiĝas ĉi tie en Nov-Jorko, vidante kion la majstro ne povis antaŭvidi tra la malhelaj nuboj kiuj sufokis la mondon antaŭ dekunu jaroj. Ni vidas ke la Esperanta movado revigliĝis sur nova, pli firma bazo post la Monda Milito. Ni vidas ke en tiu Milito mem naskiĝis dezirego inter la popoloj por interpopola ligo, por forigo de malamo kaj por starigo de universala homaranismo. Ni vidas ke pro tiu sento en la punata mondo Esperanto ricevas ĉiutage kreskantan akcepton. De la Oriento ĝis la Okcidento, de la antipodeoj, trans ĉiun nacion, rapide iras la venkanta spirito de Ludoviko Zamenhof. Ni vidas naciojn kies registaroj komencas helpi la disvastigadon de nia kara lingvo. Tre ofte, ĉiam pli kaj pli ofte, venas inter ni fratoj de malproksimaj mondpartoj parolante al ni en la magia lingvo kies magio malfermas la pordojn de ĉiuj koroj kiuj komprenas ĝin. Kaj en nia propra lando de Nord-Ameriko dum lastaj tempoj ni feliĉe vidas vikle kreskantan intereson, vidante grupojn de personoj en multaj lokoj kie antaŭe ne ekzistis eĉ konon pri Esperanto.

Ge-samideanoj, nia plej kora bedaŭro estu ke nia modesta, kviete laborinta majstro ne povus esti vivinta ĝis nun por sciigi ke malamo ne tute venkis, sed kontraŭe, ke ĝi pli rapide malantaŭenkuras antaŭ la armeo de homaranoj, ke vere "en la mondon venis nova sento."

Mi proponas ke ni ree honoru la memoron de Zamenhof ĉiam per pli korprofunda dediĉo de ni mem al la vojo kiun li tiel bone elmontris.

Mar-Dezertoj

En kelkaj partoj de la maro sin trovas malmultaj vivantaj estaĵoj. Okcidente de Patagonio en la Sud-Pacifiko troviĝas tio, kion oni povus nomi mar-dezerto: tie vivas malmulte da fiŝoj kaj malmulte da mar-birdoj; flosantaj kreskaĵoj preskaŭ ne ekzistas tie. Sur la fundo de la maro estas neordinare granda amaso da ŝark-dentoj kaj la orel-ostoj de balenoj, kiu fakto sugestias ke ĉi tiuj grandeguloj eniras la mar-dezerton kaj mortas pro malsato antaŭ ol ili povas trovi eliran vojon. La dentoj kaj orel-ostoj estas tiel malmolaj ke ili preskaŭ ne estas solveblaj en la maro; ili tial kolektiĝas sur la fundo de la maro kiel postsignoj de malfeliĉaj vizitantoj al la dezerto.

PRO LA REĜINA

Sinjoro Johano, farmisto de malgranda bieno, fervora abelisto, decidis plibonigi la rason de la abeloj en sia abelejo, kaj tial, sciiginte, ke en la agrikultura industria ekspozicio en X. estas vendataj reĝinoj—patrinoj, li decidis veturi kaj aĉeti unu.

—Li trovis efektive belan specimenon kaj ne meditante, aĉetis ĝin.

La oraj okuloj, belaj piedetoj kun nigraj kaj flavaj strietoj kaj delikata kiraso prezentis tuton tre belan.

Sed okazis malfacileco kun ĝia traveturigo domen. Sinjoro Johano tamen ne por parado portis la kapon sur la nuko; tiel almenaŭ parolis pri li liaj najbaroj.

Li prenis malplenan alumetujon, eltranĉis truon en ĝia supra, kaj en tiu ĉi loko surgluis truetigitan peceton da papero.

Li enmetis en tiel preparitan skatolon la belegan reĝinon, sed por ke ŝi ne enuu sola, li aĉetis ankoraŭ al ŝi por akompano kvar laborajn abelojn.

Kiel multe li promesis al si de la reĝino, kun kia ĝojo li kaŝis la skatolon en la poŝon de siaj pantalonoj!

Irante al la stacidomo de la fervojo, li eniris dumvoje en telegrafejon, kaj sendis telegramon al sia fianĉino, petante, ke ŝi lin atendu la haltejo B.

En la oficejo regis tia interpremo, tiel multe estis da klientoj, ke li devis sufiĉe longe atendi. Kiam li eliris kaj ekrigardis la poŝhorloĝon, estis du minutoj antaŭ foriro de la vagonaro. Li do komencis kuri tra la stratoj kaj spiregante enfalis la peronon en la momento, kiam la konduktoroj fermadis jam la pordetojn de la vagonoj.

Ne aĉetante jam bileton, li saltis en unu ankoraŭ malfermitan, sed jam plenan de pasaĝeroj kupeon, sed kroĉiginte je la eltiritaj piedoj de ia maljuna sinjoro, li falis kiel longa, kaj lia kapo trovis sin dum momento sur la genuoj de malgrasa maljuna fraŭlino, kiu indignita de tia kuraĝeco, laŭte ekkriis.

Sinjoro Johano komencis peti pardonon kaj senkulpiĝi varmege, ekaŭdinte tamen, ke la maljuna sinjora moŝto ekmurmuris “frenezulo”—li forte ruĝiĝis, kaj jam plej trankvile, kiel li nur povis, li sidiĝis inter maljuna fraŭlino kaj dika buĉistino. Li decidis trankvile kaj silente sidi, ĉar li volis ke la maljuna sinjora moŝto ŝanĝu pri li sian opinion.

Sed ve, li subite eksentis fortegan jukon en la dekstra piedo. Ŝtelmove, volante per nenia pli rapida movo vekti suspektojn, li tuŝis la piedon, sed li faris tion tiel mallerte, ke li puŝis la sidantan apud li buĉistinon.

—Sinjoro, mi petas ke tio duan fojon ne ripetigu—rimarkis agacige la dika sinjorino.

Sinjoro Johano ree ruĝiĝis kaj tre konfuziĝis, la juko tamen potenciĝis tiel forte, ke li jam ne povante elteni ĝin, saltis supren kun ekrio.

—Granda Dio, kio ree okazis—grakis la maljuna fraŭlino.

—Se vi volas fari tiajn skandalojn, vi ne sidu en unu kupeo kun decaj homoj—intermetis malvolonte la maljuna sinjora moŝto.

Strange, ke la fervojo permesas ion similan—eksonis ies voĉo el angulo.

Sinjoro Johano eksentis en tiu ĉi momento terurajn, dolorigajn ekpikojn. Li enŝovis singarde la manon en la poŝon, kaj eltiris la skatolon kun abeloj: ve, ĝi estis malplena, la antaŭsento lin ne trompis. Falante ĉe la enirado en la vagonon, li ĉifis ĝin, la papera supra krevis, kaj de la reĝino-patrino kaj de ŝiaj korteganinoj ne restis eĉ postsigno.

Sinjoro Johano sentas nun, ke la abeloj promenas sur tuta lia korpo kaj mordas lin terure. Li ĵetas sin en ĉiujn flankojn kaj kriegas plengorge.

—Tiu ĉi homo frenezigiĝis—ekkriis la ektimigita buĉistino.

—Konduktoro, sinjoro konduktoro, mi petas ellasi nin de tie—komencis ĉiuj krii, kliniĝante el la fenestroj.

Sinjoro Johano tiutempe kuŝas sur la tero kaj volviĝas de doloro.

—Ha, tiu ĉi frenezulo mortigos nin ĉiujn unu post alia,—pepas soprane la maljuna fraŭlino kaj alpremas sin al la brako de l' maljuna sinjoro moŝto, volante kred-eble serĉi ĉe li savon.

—Trankvile, nur trankvile—murmuras la maljunulo;—kio okazis kun vi, ke vi tiel kriegas—li demandis, kliniĝante al sinjoro Johano.

—Mi ne povas, mi ne povas jam elteni pli longe—ili mordetas, mordas, pikas, ho! vi ĉiuj eliru, mi devas senvestiĝi, alie ili vin ankaŭ mordos.

—Li estas furiozulo, li forkuris videble el frenezulejo—rimarkis iu el la vojaĝantoj.

Eksiblis laŭta fajfo de la lokomotivo: stacidomo N. Ĉiuj vojaĝantoj escepte sinjoron Johanon rapideme forlasas la kupeon.

Sciigita de la kondukto la staciestro proksimiĝis al la vagono, kaj ferminte la pordeton, starigis antaŭ la malfermita fenestro.

—Kial vi krias tiel?—li demandis.

Sinjoro Johano, kiu dume sukcesis dispremi tra la vesto unu el la plej multe suferigaj abeloj, trankviliĝis por momento, kaj proksimiĝis al la fenestro.

—Ha—li eksopiris malfacile,—ili ĉiuj forkuris, sinjoro, ĉiuj!

—Ĉiuj! kaj kiom do estis da ili?—demandis staciestro—pensante, ke li efektive havas antaŭ si frenezulon.

—Kvin, kvar laboristinoj kaj unu reĝino, ha! tiun lastan mi bedaŭras plej multe! Tiom multe mi pagis por ŝi!

—Kio? Reĝino? kiel do ŝi aspektis?—demandas plue staciestro.

—Kiel longe mi vivas, mi ne vidis tiel belan specimenon.—Ŝi havis orajn okulojn, belan kirason, kaj piedetojn kun nigraj kaj flavaj strietoj—respondis sopirante sinjoro Johano.

—Bela reĝino!—diris ridante staciestro—nu, kaj aliaj kiel ili aspektis?

—Kiel ili aspektis?—ripetis mirigita sinjoro Johano—kiel ordinare laboraj abeloj, ĉiu similas unu la alian.

—Ekvolu sinjoro fine restigi abelojn en paco kaj respondu al la demando—diris la senpacienca staciestro—abeloj forventumu al vi el la kapo!

—El la kapo!—ekmiris sinjoro Johano—en la kapo mi ilin ne havas, nur . . . en la pantalonoj.

—Ha, ha, ha,—ekplodis ride staciestro,—reĝino kaj kvin laboristinoj en la pantalonoj, ne, tio estas bonega!—nu, sed kial vi tiel bruas kaj krias!?

La abeloj videble komencis ree suferigi Johanon, ĉar li falis teren kaj kriante kaj ĝemante, volviĝis de doloro.

Eksonis tria sonoro.

Preskaŭ ruliĝante de rido, la staciestro foriris de la fenestro kaj ekvidinte trapasantan oficiston, rekomendis al li telefone sciigi la plej proksiman stacion, ke en la vagono No. 16 veturas frenezulo kaj ke oni devas entrepreni konformajn rimedojn de singardo.

Apenaŭ la vagonaro ekmovigis, sinjoro Johano ne povante plu elteni, komencis rapideme detiradi la pantalonojn; li decidis fine liberiĝi de la suferigaj abeloj.

Li proksimiĝis al la fenestro kaj tre singardeme renversis la kruruojn sur la duan flankon.

Du abeloj tuj forflugis tra la fenestro, tri tamen restis ankoraŭ en la faldoj; unu el ili—estis reĝino-patrino.

—Ha, perfida kreitaĵo—eksiblis sinjoro Johano—mi tiom promesadis al mi de vi, kaj vi tiel terure mordetis min kaj mordis, do, pereu nun!

Kaj elŝovinte la pantalonojn post la fenestron, li fortege, preskaŭ kun furiozeco, komencis ilin skui.

Tamen tio ne estis ankoraŭ la fino de malprosperoj, ĉar jen apude, sur najbara linio, de kontraŭa flanko alkuradis kuriero. Sinjoro Johano ne sukcesis retiri la manojn kun la tenataj en ili pantalonoj, kiam apud liaj oreloj ekbruis kaj ekmuĝis la kuriero.

Elstaranta hoko ĉe la fulmrapide iranta vagonaro alkroĉis la pantalonojn kaj elŝiris ilin el la manoj de la duone senkonsciigita sinjoro Johano antaŭ ol tiu ĉi komprenis, kio okazis.

Svingante triumfe en aero per tiu-ĉi originala flageto, la kuriero trapasis pluen.

Sinjoro Johano rigidiĝis, kompreninte la tutan teruregon kaj komikecon, de sia stato.

Li enŝoviĝis en angulon de l' kupeo kaj sidis tie, ĝis la fajfoj de la lokomotivo, konigantaj, ke la vagonaro ree proksimiĝas al stacio, ne elŝiris lin el tiu ĉi rigideco.

—Granda Dio! Tio estas stacio B., kie mi estis renkontonta mian fianĉinon kaj la estontan bopatrinojn! Kio nun okazos? ho! al cent diabloj, malbenitaj estu ĉiuj abeloj, abelejoj, reĝinoj k. t. p. Kiel mi nun prezentos min al la fianĉino en tia kostumo, kion ŝi diros?

Ankoraŭ unu pli laŭta longedaŭra fajfo, kaj la vagonaro haltis. Al sinjoro Johano ŝajnis, ke proksimiĝas por li horo de morto. Elkliniĝante singardeme tra la fenestro, li rimarkis la fianĉinon, ŝian patrinojn kaj multe da aliaj konatuloj.

Preskaŭ samtempe malfermiĝas la pordo kaj en la kupeon eniras kondukto kaj post li kelke da ĝendarmoj.

Ili ĉiuj proksimiĝas al sinjoro Johano per kunpremita areto; unu el ili tenas en la mano jakon por frenezuloj.

—Kion vi deziras de mi, sinjoroj?—demandas sinjoro Johano, vidante kiel unu el venintoj penas meti sur lin la jakon.

—Mi petas esti nur trankvila—rediris unu el la ĝendarmoj—surmetu ĝin kaj iru kun ni.

Sinjoro Johano komprenis fine, ke ili opinias, ke li estas frenezulo; kun granda forto li forpuŝis la plej proksime starantan ĝendarmon, la du aliajn, kiuj provis lin kapti, li regalis per potencaj pugnekbatoj en la bruston, kaj tiel, kiel li staris, li elfalis sur la peronon.

Aŭdigis laŭta ekkrio.

Lia fianĉino ekkonis lin. Mirigita kaj indignita pro lia vestaĵo, ruĝiginta de honto, ŝi deturnis la kapon en alian flankon kaj fermis la okulojn.

Tamen laŭtaj ridoj, krioj, alvokoj devigis ŝin malfermi la okulojn kaj ŝi ree rimarkis la fianĉon, kiel kaptita kaj kondukata de ĝendarmoj li sidigas kune kun ili en veturilon.

La sceno en policejo estis, kiel oni diras, tiel amuza, ke oficistoj ruliĝadis de rido. De tiu ĉi tempo tamen sinjoro Johano neniam provis iajn ajn rasajn pliboniĝojn.
